

Join APHEN-ICH Field School
on Intangible Cultural Heritage Safeguarding
16-23 August 2019, Republic of Korea

In keeping with the spirit of the 2003 UNESCO Convention, APHEN-ICH (Asia Pacific Higher Education Network for Safeguarding Intangible Cultural Heritage) was established in 2018 to foster and strengthen capacity for the safeguarding of intangible cultural heritage in the Asia-Pacific through collaborative programs and activities of higher education institutions in the region.

In line with its objective, APHEN-ICH holds its first field school in collaboration with ICHCAP, UNESCO Category 2 Center for ICH safeguarding in the Asia-Pacific region, and Korea National University of Cultural Heritage(KNUCH), the secretariat of the Network.

The field school aims at promoting academic exchanges, networking and cooperation between future ICH experts in the Asia Pacific region and invites postgraduate students studying ICH and ICH related studies in its 15 member universities.

The tentative themes (subject to change) of the school include:

- 2003 Convention for the Safeguarding of ICH and its recent development,
- ICH Safeguarding and community participation,
- Methodology and tools for ICH research,
- Interdisciplinary approach,
- ICH Safeguarding and Sustainable development
- Visiting ICH transmission places in Korea

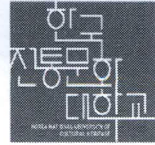

To register, please fill in the registration form attached and send it back to us by 4 June 2019. The co-organizers will cover travel cost including the international airfare, meals and accommodation (student dormitory) during the field school.
